LINDBERGH TO TRY ANOTHER OCEAN FLIGHT

TO VISIT MOST

THIS SUMMER

THEN TO CONTINUE ON ACROSS
RUSSIA, CHINA AND JAPAN

LONE EAGLE WILL THEN RE-TURN ACROSS THE PACIFIC

By MAURITZ A. HALLGREN

Washington, March 30.—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh intends to try the trans-Atlantic hop again this summer, he has advised army friends here.

He plans to visit most of the countries in Europe and then, if everything breaks well, continue on across Russia, China and Japan, returning across the Pacific.

The flying colonel's air voyage will be another "good will" trip, according to his present plans. He will not attempt to break any records.

Lindbergh has for several months discussed his contemplated flight with military friends and with his backers. He has received advice from many sources and now is seeking further reliable information as to flying conditions and the geography of the European countries he may visit.

The flight probably will start from Mitchell Field, N. Y., with the first leg of the journey ending somewhere in Germany.

Lindbergh is now on his way to San Diego, Cal., where a new Ryan monoplane is waiting for him. This ship, similar to the Spirit of St. Louis in which he made his historic trip last May, was built especially for the journey this summer.

According to information available here, Lindbergh will spend three weeks or a month testing his new ship in southern California. Then he intends to cross the country in easy stages, wait in New York for favorable flying weather and then begin his newest history-making cruise.

Flying across Russia and China may offer unusual complications, not only because of the scarcity of landing fields, but also because of the political situation in Russia and the constant civil warfare in the latter country. An informal effort doubtless will be made through private channels to facilitate the trip across Russia, if Lindbergh decides to extend the journey around the world.

It also is probable that the flier may circle through India and Indo-China and thus avoid the battlefields of China proper. If this route is chosen, he will most likely try a single hop from Indo-China to Japan.

The jump across the Pacific, which has not yet been completely spanned by air, is still to be worked out. It is considered likely Lindbergh will take an easy hop to the Philippines first, following this with a jump to the Midway Islands and from there proceed to Hawaii and the American mainland.

This leg will unquestionably be the most hazardous of the trip. The Midway Islands in particular offer an obstacle which appears insurmountable. They are small and wild and lack suitable landing field. Brock and Schlee, the two Detroit airmen, who tried the globe-circling journey, balked when they faced the Midways and ended their flight in Japan.

Whether Lindbergh will use the radio beacon, which guided Maitland and Hegenberg in their California-Hawaii trip, could not be learned.

Advices from Tokyo say the Japanese are already preparing a record welcome for the airman. He has been promised a reception there exceeding those given him in France, Belgium and England last summer.

The idea of a round-the-world flight has been in Lindbergh's mind ever since his European stay was cut short early last June. At that time he expressed a desire to continue around the globe or at least to pay calls at all the European capitals.

Lindbergh was dissuaded from this, however, by Ambassador Herick in France. Then came the invitation from President Coolidge to return to this country to receive the president's congratulations and the homage of the land.

Persons here close to the colonel made it clear he has not definitely committed himself with respect to the exact itinerary of his forthcoming flight, but has said he will probably hop off from a New York field in the last week in May or early in June. It was said he will again, as

COLLECTIONS
FALL BELOW RECORD

Washington, March 30.—(U.P.)—Income tax collections for March have fallen below the corresponding period last year, the treasury statement for March 28 revealed today. Collections to March 28 totalled $502,204,314.04, which compares with $504,614,145.29 up to March 28 last year.

Income tax receipts had been running ahead of last year's collections until today's statement. Total collections are now expected to be about $510,000,000, which is $6,000,000 below the treasury estimate.

BERNARDI OF ITALY BREAKS
SPEED RECORD

FLIES 320.625 MILES AN HOUR IN HIS ITALIAN SEA-
PLANE

FLEW 5 1/4 MILES A MINUTE TO CREATE THE NEW MARK

Venice, Italy, March 30.—(U.P.)—Major Mario De Bernardi of Italy today broke his own world's speed record when he flew his seaplane at the rate of 320.625 miles an hour. The old record was 296.43 miles an hour.

Major De Bernardi flew at rate of 5 1/4 miles a minute in creating the new mark.

He had been here for several days waiting to start but bad weather had kept his powerful plane on the ground.

De Bernardi created his record during the winter, a short time after the Schneider cup seaplane race last fall, which was won by England.

Lieut. S. M. Kinkead of Great Britain recently attempted to break Major De Bernardi's then-existing record of slightly less than 300 miles an hour but was killed when his machine nose-dived into the river between Calshot and the Isle of Wight. He was estimated to be making more than 300 miles an hour at the time.

The fact that Kinkead had come so close to breaking the record spurred the Italian to make another try. Major De Bernardi's fastest lap was made at a speed of 350.625 miles an hour—5 5/6 miles a minute.

In all his long distance journeys, fly alone.

St. Louis, Mo., March 30.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was asleep here today when a United Press dispatch arrived from Washington reporting he planned another trans-Atlantic flight this summer.

Harry H. Knight, his host, said he had not discussed the report with the flier, and that he personally knew nothing about it. Major Wm. B. Robertson, friend of Lindbergh, said he had not heard of it.

Knight and Robertson both were among the backers of Lindbergh's New York to Paris flight.

The flier arrived here yesterday from Cincinnati, completing ten months of ocean spanning, good will, air-mailing and congress-taxing.

"He has expressed a desire for rest and seclusion," Knight said.

It is known, however, that Lindbergh soon plans to go to San Diego, Cal., to take over a new plane of the "Spirit of St. Louis" type.

St. Louis, Mo., March 30.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh insisted today on maintaining his "retired" status and refused to comment on a report from Washington that he planned another trans-Atlantic flight this summer.

The flier was informed of the full, verbatim text of a dispatch reporting he planned to fly from the United States to Europe and thence around the world. He declined to comment. Whatever the flier's plans for the future, he indicated plainly, they would not be divulged by him until they had been fully projected.

Meanwhile, close personal and aeronautical friends of Lindbergh here maintained their recent protecting veil of secrecy, and all said they knew nothing of the reported globe circling flight.

"Lindbergh wants to rest for a while, out of the spotlight," Harry H. Knight, his host here, told the United Press.

DISPUTE OF POLES AND LITHUANIANS

HELD THREAT OF WAR IN EAST-ERN EUROPE LAST DECEMBER

CASE COMES UP FOR SETTLE-
MENT AT KOENIGSBERG,
EAST PRUSSIA

The Polish-Lithuanian dispute, growing out of the Polish occupation of Vilna, which held the threat of war in eastern Europe last December, comes up for settlement Friday at Koenigsberg, East Prussia. The League of Nations council paved the way for settlement last December in a stormy meeting at which Marshal Pilsudski gave Lithuania the alternative of "war or peace." Augustus Voldemaras, mild mannered Lithuanian premier, chose peace. The following interpretative dispatches from United Press correspondents in Warsaw and Kovno outline the situation as it exists today.

By MARJAN MAYER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Warsaw, March 30.—It is feared in authoritative circles that the Polish-Lithuanian negotiations which began Friday at Koenigsberg, East Prussia, looking to settlement of the eight-year-old differences between the two countries, will fail.

The belief generally held in the Polish capital is that the Koenigsberg discussions are considered by Lithuania as merely rhetorical. If that is true, hope that peace will be made by Warsaw and Kovno is slim. (The two countries have been technically, though not actually, at war since 1920 when Poland seized Vilna).

Peace between Lithuania and Poland is unthinkable unless the Kovno government abandons its previous die-hard attitude in the Vilna dispute.

Vilna no longer is an issue, as far as Lithuanian prestige is concerned, it is believed here, but Vilna has become the object for barter with Poland.

Polish land owners who owned huge estates in what is now Lithuania, intend to demand compensation whenever normal relations between the two countries are resumed, and Premier Voldemaras of Lithuania, it is understood, probably will use Vilna to counter the demand of these claims.

It is expected Voldemaras will do his utmost to keep the Koenigsberg discussions within narrowly circumscribed limits and avert talking about Vilna.

Kovno, March 29.—When Polish and Lithuanian statesmen meet at Koenigsberg, East Prussia, Friday in an attempt to settle the dispute between the two countries growing out of Poland's occupation of Vilna in 1920, an effort will be made to dispel the war clouds which have hung over eastern Europe for a decade.

Negotiations are expected to continue for four days. They are being held in accordance with the League of Nations council's decision last December recommending that Warsaw and Kovno attempt to restore diplomatic and economic relations as soon as possible.

Foreign Minister August Zaleski of Poland and Premier Augustus Voldemaras are expected to lead the delegations whose discussions will be watched carefully by all the chancelleries in Europe.

The Polish-Lithuanian conflict grew out of the Polish General Zeligowski's invasion and annexation of Vilna, Poland's possession of which the ambassadors' council in Paris later recognized. Lithuania still denies the validity of the council's action.

Lithuania has done her utmost to regain Vilna. All political parties in the country, regardless of internal difficulties, agree on that issue. Poland insists the ambassadors'

ENDEAVOR TO FIX

Los Angeles, March 30.—(U.P.)—A group of engineers today were to offer technical testimony before the coroner's jury endeavoring to fix responsibility for the breaking of St. Francis dam. The jury will not render its decision until early next week. It was indicated by the list of witnesses to be called.

WORK CALLED

WAR VETERAN

LATTER WAS COLONEL CARL
ESTES OF TYLER, TEXAS,
WHO HAD SEEN HIM

Washington, March 30.—(U.P.)—Secretary of Interior Work was called a "coward" by Sen. Caraway, democrat, Arkansas, on the floor of the senate today.

Caraway said Work had insulted a wounded war veteran, Colonel Carl Estes of Tyler, Texas, who had come to him to protest an interior department report against the proposed Ouichita National Park of Texas and Arkansas.

"I'll waive my senatorial privileges, if I have any," Caraway said, "in order to meet the secretary anywhere if he resents my charge."

"He took advantage of his position to sit in his office and insult a man whose body was covered with war wounds. His attitude was disgraceful and cowardly, and he is a coward to have done what he did."

Caraway alleged Work called Estes a liar during their interview and protested that the people of Texas and Arkansas were attempting to run his department.

Caraway said the interior department's report on the park was signed by Work but apparently had not been read by him. The senator said it stated the proposed park was on the Arkansas river, whereas it is 200 miles away.

Some one deleted the report from the record of the house committee hearings and submitted another and more correct report, he said.

McNARY FARM
RELIEF BILL TO BE
IN SENATE MONDAY

AS UNFINISHED
BUSINESS

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT
APPROPRIATION BILL PASSED

Washington, March 30.—(U.P.)—The McNary farm relief bill, considered one of the most important measures of the session, will be taken up by the senate Monday.

Sen. McNary, republican, Oregon, its author, succeeded in placing the measure on the calendar as unfinished business after the senate passed the agriculture department appropriation bill late yesterday.

As finally passed by the senate, the appropriation bill carried $134,437,444 for expenses of the agriculture department and about $4,500,000 more to restore federal roads destroyed by floods in New Hampshire, Vermont and Kentucky.

Council decision settled the Vilna dispute.

Through restoration of normal relations, Poland hopes, it is believed here, that Polish influence gradually will be dominant in Lithuanians—an influence which Kovno fears would threaten Lithuanian independence.

FEDERAL RAID
ON SOUTH SIDE
SALOON BLOODY

BULLET RIDDLED BODY OF UN-
KNOWN MAN FOUND BURN-
ING IN STREET

GASOLINE HAD BEEN POURED
OVER HIS BODY AND SET
AFIRE

By C. C. NICOLET
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, March 30.—The shooting of a municipal court bailiff by raiding federal prohibition agents and a mysterious gangland torture-death threw Chicago's already turbulent pre-primary campaign into renewed disorder today.

William Beatty, 35, bailiff and a republican ward leader, was wounded last night during a federal raid on a south side saloon. The shooting climaxed a week of intense activity on the part of government prohibition authorities.

The bullet-riddled body of a man was found burning in the street several miles south of the city limits early today. Gasoline had been poured over his body and set afire.

A card bearing the name "Paul Marchese" was found in his clothing. Marchese is the family name of the widow of "Diamond Joe" Esposito, Italian ward leader, who was assassinated last week.

Beatty was said to be a political leader in the 48th ward and supported the republican faction headed by Mayor William Hale Thompson and State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe.

Hospital physicians said his wound was serious but probably would not prove fatal.

According to Beatty's statement, he had gone to a saloon with his wife prior to attending a political meeting. While there, twelve federal agents under George E. Golding, entered.

Beatty said he saw the men coming in the door with guns and thought it was a holdup. Before he could escape, he said, he was shot. Golding declared Beatty was shot after he drew a revolver and started shooting at the federal agents.

These two events, coupled with new death threats and political battle cries, displaced in importance the hope of possible federal intervention in the political war, which was aroused by the request of U. S. Marshal Palmer Anderson for 500 deputy marshals to prevent violence in the primary election, April 10.

Arrival of U. S. Senator Charles S. Deneen and his announced intention of carrying on a speaking campaign on "the supreme effort of the criminal element to dominate Chicago" was met by a radio address picturing Chicago as a normal law-abiding city, by State's Attorney Crowe. Deneen's rival for the republican nomination for state's attorney.

A bomb made of sixteen sticks of dynamite was found near the market place on the west side this morning. Had it exploded, police said, it would have damaged an entire block. Apparently the bomb had extinguished the fuse, which was partly burned.

The bomb was under the platform of the S. H. Levy Produce Company. Owners of the Levy company said they had had no trouble with racketeers and had no political affiliations.

Police believed, however, the bomb might have been directed against Kaufman & Brown Company on the second floor. It was learned Charles Kaufman, head of the company, was a cousin of Eddie "Potatoes" Kaufman, alcohol racketeer and one time member of the late Dion O'Banion's gang.

Mrs. George E. Q. Johnson, wife of the United States assistant district attorney here, reported she had received a bombing threat over the telephone last night.

New York, March 30.—(U.P.)—Cardinal Mundelein returned on the liner Berengaria from European trip today and immediately left for Chicago.

GALE BUFFETS
DUBLIN FIELD;
FLIGHT BALKED

Baldonnel Airdrome, Dublin, March 30.—(U.P.)—A gale buffeted the Baldonnel flying field today and prevented the trim gray monoplane "Bremen"—which its three masters claim will be taken to "Mitchell Field, L. I., or heaven"—from starting on a trans-Atlantic flight.

When Baron Von Huenefeld, Captain Spindler saw there had been no abatement of the high wind and rain, they ordered the flight postponed until Saturday.

DEPOSITION

GIVES HIS VERSION OF LEASING
TEAPOT DOME OIL
RESERVE

CONTENTS NOT DISCLOSED, NO
MORE NIGHT SESSIONS
HELD

El Paso, Texas, March 30.—(U.P.)—The deposition of Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, giving his version of the leasing of Teapot Dome naval oil reserve to Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate, will not be completed until tomorrow night.

Attorneys for Sinclair and government representatives today were to continue the taking of the deposition, the contents of which were not disclosed.

Attorneys spent two and one-half hours yesterday afternoon and 45 minutes last night recording Fall's story of the famous oil lease.

There will be no more night sessions because of Fall's condition, it was said.

Judge Daniel T. Wright, attorney for Sinclair, said the taking of the deposition would be concluded by tomorrow night.

Fall is telling the whole story of the Teapot Dome case and other government oil matters, it was learned.

11 ARRESTED IN
DRY RAIDS IN
BELTRAMI COUNTY

St. Paul, March 30.—(U.P.)—Eleven persons were arrested in raids in Beltrami county, federal dry agents announced here today. They were nabbed in a series of eight raids, conducted over a 48 hour period, on soft drink bars, drinking clubs, and dwellings in and near Bemidji, dry agents reported. Those arrested were charged with sale and possession of liquor and with maintaining a nuisance.

POISON VICTIM

Atlanta, Ga., March 30.—(U.P.)—A young woman who has been in Grady hospital here since last Monday, suffering from self-administered poison dose, and steadfastly refusing to tell her name, has been identified as Miss Helen Blake of Atlanta. She had been tentatively identified as being from Columbus, O.

COCHRAN RELEASED
ON $20,000 BONDS

St. Paul, March 30.—(U.P.)—C. A. Cochran, convicted on a fraud charge, was released from the Ramsey county jail Thursday when he furnished $20,000 bonds. Cochran faces a jail term of 20 years, but has appealed. He was granted a 30-day stay in which to file his appeal.

HIGH WINDS
IN ALABAMA
TAKE LIFE TOLL

Argo, Ala., March 30.—(U.P.)—High winds which swept over northern Alabama during the night took a toll of at least four lives and caused injuries to a score.

Many towns were isolated by the storm and details of damage were meager. Wires were down through the area.

HAD BEEN UP
IN THE AIR 53
HOURS, 37 MINUTES

ALOFT FOR 1 HOUR, 14 MINUTES
MORE THAN ANY OTHER
AIRPLANE

EDDIE STINSON HELD A RECORD
EIGHT YEARS AGO OF
26 HOURS

Jacksonville Beach, Fla., Mar. 30.—(U.P.)—The Stinson-Detroit monoplane which carried Eddie Stinson and George Haldeman to a new endurance flight record landed at 1:14 P. M. (unofficial) today.

It had been in the air 53 hours, 37 minutes—or one hour and 14 minutes more than any airplane in sustained flight.

The official landing time was 1:14:10 P. M. and the official elapsed time in the air was given out as 53:37:10.

Eddie Stinson, Detroit airplane manufacturer who broke the record with Haldeman—Ruth Elder's pilot—held the endurance flight record eight years ago. His mark then was 26 hours.

Return of the record to America, follows the failure of Haldeman and Stinson to succeed in an attempt near Detroit, three weeks ago when ice and snow forced them down.

The monoplane used was the Standard type developed by Stinson. It is equipped with a 220-horsepower Wright Whirlwind motor. More than 100 gallons of their gasoline supply was loaded in five-gallon cans. These were tossed overboard as the flight progressed.

Fliers who went up at intervals to fly beside the big monoplane returned to report both fliers in excellent spirits.

Johann Ristiez and Cornelius Edzard in the Junker plane "Europa" had previously held the record, having wrested the endurance mark from Bert Acosta and Clarence Chamberlin.

Five gallons of gasoline were left in the plane.

Stinson crawled out of the cockpit first. He was grimy and badly in need of a shave as was Haldeman.

Both were dead tired, their flying clothes oily, and their hair disheveled.

Stinson alone would talk. Haldeman getting out of the crowd as soon as he could wedge through.

"There is nothing to say," Stinson remarked, "except that we accomplished what we set out to."

Jacksonville Beach, Fla., Mar. 30.—Capt. George Haldeman and Eddie Stinson, flying a Stinson-Detroit monoplane, equalled the world's endurance flight record of 52 hours, 23 minutes, at noon today.

At that hour they were flying high here, apparently bent on continuing the flight until their fuel supply is exhausted.

At 12:28 P. M., E. S. T., the Black and Gold monoplane still soared nearly 4,000 feet above the beach. But 32 minutes more flying was between the fliers and a new world's record.

ARIZONA FILIBUSTER
AGAINST BOULDER
CANYON DAM BILL

Washington, March 30.—(U.P.)—The Arizona filibuster against the Johnson Boulder Canyon dam bill will be renewed this session, Senator Ashurst (Dem., Ariz.) indicated to the senate today.

"If the senate intends to pass this bill it better get an option on some overcoats because we will be here until the ides of November," Ashurst said.

GREAT NORTHERN TO BUILD BRANCH IN NORTH MONTANA

St. Paul, March 30.—(U.P.)—The Great Northern railroad was granted its application for construction of a 75-mile branch line in northern Montana, it was announced here today. The extension to be built at an estimated cost of $2,000,000 will serve 1,500,000 acres of land in Blaine and Phillips counties, one of the richest wheat growing regions in the northwest.

Negotiations are expected to continue for four days. They are being held in accordance with the League of Nations council's decision last December recommending that Warsaw and Kovno attempt to restore diplomatic and economic relations as soon as possible.

Foreign Minister August Zaleski of Poland and Premier Augustine Voldemaras are expected to lead the delegations whose discussions will be watched carefully by all the chancelleries in Europe.

The Polish-Lithuanian conflict grew out of the Polish General Zelewski's invasion and annexation of Vilna, Poland's possession of which the ambassadors' council in Paris later recognized. Lithuania still denies the validity of the council's action.

Lithuania has done her utmost to regain Vilna. All political parties in the country, regardless of internal difficulties, agree on that issue. Poland insists the ambassadors'

RESPONSIBILITY FOR DAM PLIGHT

Los Angeles, March 30.—(U.P.)—A group of engineers today were to offer technical testimony before the coroner's jury endeavoring to fix responsibility for the breaking of St. Francis dam. The jury will not render its decision until early next week, it was indicated by the list of witnesses to be called.

WORK CALLED "COWARD" BY
SEN. CARAWAY

SAID SECRETARY OF INTERIOR
HAD INSULTED WOUNDED
WAR VETERAN

LATTER WAS COLONEL CARL
ESTES OF TYLER, TEXAS,
WHO HAD SEEN HIM

Washington, March 30.—(U.P.)—Secretary of Interior Work was called a "coward" by Sen. Caraway, democrat, Arkansas, on the floor of the senate today.

Caraway said Work had insulted a wounded war veteran, Colonel Carl Estes of Tyler, Texas, who had come to him to protest an interior department report against the proposed Ouachita National Park of Texas and Arkansas.

"I'll waive my senatorial privileges, if I have any," Caraway said, "in order to meet the secretary anywhere if he resents my charge."

"He took advantage of his position to sit in his office and insult a man whose body was covered with war wounds. His attitude was disgraceful and cowardly, and he is a coward to have done what he did."

Caraway alleged Work called Estes a liar during their interview and protested that the people of Texas and Arkansas were attempting to run his department.

Caraway said the interior department's report on the park was signed by Work but apparently had not been read by him. The senator said it stated the proposed park was on the Arkansas river, whereas it is 200 miles away.

Some one deleted the report from the record of the house committee hearings and submitted another and more correct report, he said.

McNARY FARM
RELIEF BILL TO BE
IN SENATE MONDAY

MEASURE PLACED ON CALENDAR
AS UNFINISHED
BUSINESS

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT
APPROPRIATION BILL
PASSED

Washington, March 30.—(U.P.)—The McNary farm relief bill, considered one of the most important measures of the session, will be taken up by the senate Monday.

Sen. McNary, republican, Oregon, its author, succeeded in placing the measure on the calendar as unfinished business after the senate passed the agriculture department appropriation bill late yesterday.

As finally passed by the senate, the appropriation bill carried $134,437,444 for expenses of the agriculture department and about $4,500,000 more to restore federal roads destroyed by floods in New Hampshire, Vermont and Kentucky.

council decision settled the Vilna dispute.

Through restoration of normal relations, Poland hopes, it is believed here, that Polish influence gradually will be dominant in Lithuania—an influence which Kovno fears would threaten Lithuanian independence.

FEDERAL RAID
ON SOUTH SIDE
SALOON BLOODY

BULLET RIDDLED BODY OF UN-
KNOWN MAN FOUND BURN-
ING IN STREET

GASOLINE HAD BEEN POURED
OVER HIS BODY AND SET
AFIRE

By C. C. NICOLET
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, March 30.—The shooting of a municipal court bailiff by raiding federal prohibition agents and a mysterious gangland torture-death threw Chicago's already turbulent pre-primary campaign into renewed disorder today.

William Beatty, 35, bailiff and a republican ward leader, was wounded last night during a federal raid on a south side saloon. The shooting climaxed a week of intense activity on the part of government prohibition authorities.

The bullet-riddled body of a man was found burning in the street several miles south of the city limits early today. Gasoline had been poured over his body and set afire.

A card bearing the name "Paul Marchese" was found in his clothing. Marchese is the family name of the widow of "Diamond Joe" Esposito, Italian ward leader, who was assassinated last week.

Beatty was said to be a political leader in the 48th ward and supported the republican faction headed by Mayor William Hale Thompson and State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe.

Hospital physicians said his wound was serious but probably would not prove fatal.

According to Beatty's statement, he had gone to a saloon with his wife prior to attending a political meeting. While there, twelve federal agents under George E. Golding, entered.

Beatty said he saw the men coming in the door with guns and thought it was a holdup. Before he could escape, he said, he was shot.

Golding declared Beatty was shot after he drew a revolver and started shooting at the federal agents.

These two events, coupled with new death threats and political battle cries, displaced in importance the hope of possible federal intervention in the political war, which was aroused by the request of U. S. Marshal Palmer Anderson for 500 deputy marshals to prevent violence in the primary election, April 10.

Arrival of U. S. Senator Charles S. Deneen and his announced intention of carrying on a speaking campaign on "the supreme effort of the criminal element to dominate Chicago" was met by a radio address picturing Chicago as a normal law-abiding city, by State's Attorney Crowe, Deneen's rival for the republican nomination for state's attorney.

A bomb made of sixteen sticks of dynamite was found near the market place on the west side this morning. Had it exploded, police said, it would have damaged an entire block. Apparently the bomb had extinguished the fuse, which was partly burned.

The bomb was under the platform of the S. H. Levy Produce Company. Owners of the Levy company said they had had no trouble with racketeers and had no political affiliations.

Police believed, however, the bomb might have been directed against Kaufman & Brown Company on the second floor. It was learned Charles Kaufman, head of the company, was a cousin of Eddie "Potatoes" Kaufman, alcohol racketeer and one time member of the late Dion O'Banion's gang.

Mrs. George E. Q. Johnson, wife of the United States assistant district attorney here, reported she had received a bombing threat over the telephone last night.

New York, March 30.—(U.P.)—Cardinal Mundelein returned on the liner Berengaria from European trip today and immediately left for Chicago.

GALE BUFFETS
DUBLIN FIELD;
FLIGHT BALKED

Baldonnel Airdrome, Dublin, March 30.—(U.P.)—A gale buffeted the Baldonnel flying field today and prevented the trim gray monoplane "Bremen"—which its three masters claim will be taken to "Mitchell Field, L. I., or heaven"—from starting on a trans-Atlantic flight.

When Baron Von Huenefeld, Captain Hermann Koehl and Arthur Spindler saw there had been no abatement of the high wind and rain, they ordered the flight postponed until Saturday.

DEPOSITION OF FALL IS BEING TAKEN

GIVES HIS VERSION OF LEASING
TEAPOT DOME OIL
RESERVE

CONTENTS NOT DISCLOSED, NO
MORE NIGHT SESSIONS
HELD

El Paso, Texas, March 30.—(U.P.)—The deposition of Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, giving his version of the leasing of Teapot Dome naval oil reserve to Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate, will not be completed until tomorrow night.

Attorneys for Sinclair and government representatives today were to continue the taking of the deposition, the contents of which were not disclosed.

Attorneys spent two and one-half hours yesterday afternoon and 45 minutes last night recording Fall's story of the famous oil lease.

There will be no more night sessions because of Fall's condition, it was said.

Judge Daniel T. Wright, attorney for Sinclair, said the taking of the deposition would be concluded by tomorrow night.

Fall is telling the whole story of the Teapot Dome case and other government oil matters, it was learned.

11 ARRESTED IN
DRY RAIDS IN
BELTRAMI COUNTY

St. Paul, March 30.—(U.P.)—Eleven persons were arrested in raids in Beltrami county, federal dry agents announced here today. They were nabbed in a series of eight raids, conducted over a 48 hour period, on soft drink bars, drinking clubs, and dwellings in and near Bemidji, dry agents reported. Those arrested were charged with sale and possession of liquor and with maintaining a nuisance.

POISON VICTIM IS IDENTIFIED

Atlanta, Ga., March 30.—(U.P.)—A young woman who has been in Grady hospital here since last Monday, suffering from self-administered poison dose, and steadfastly refusing to tell her name, has been identified as Miss Helen Blake of Atlanta. She had been tentatively identified as being from Columbus, O.

COCHRAN RELEASED
ON $20,000 BONDS

St. Paul, March 30.—(U.P.)—C. A. Cochran, convicted on a fraud charge, was released from the Ramsey county jail Thursday when he furnished $20,000 bonds. Cochran faces a jail term of 20 years, but has appealed. He was granted a 30-day stay in which to file his appeal.

HIGH WINDS
IN ALABAMA
TAKE LIFE TOLL

Argo, Ala., March 30.—(U.P.)—High winds which swept over northern Alabama during the night took a toll of at least four lives and caused injuries to a score.

Many towns were isolated by the storm and details of damage were meager. Wires were down through the area.

HAD BEEN UP
IN THE AIR 53
HOURS, 37 MINUTES

ALOFT FOR 1 HOUR, 14 MINUTES
MORE THAN ANY OTHER
AIRPLANE

EDDIE STINSON HELD A RECORD
EIGHT YEARS AGO OF
26 HOURS

Jacksonville Beach, Fla., Mar. 30.—(U.P.)—The Stinson-Detroiter monoplane which carried Eddie Stinson and George Haldeman to a new endurance flight record landed at 1:14 P. M. (unofficial) today.

It had been in the air 53 hours, 37 minutes—or one hour and 14 minutes more than any airplane in sustained flight.

The official landing time was 1:14:10 P. M. and the official elapsed time in the air was given out as 53:37:10.

Eddie Stinson, Detroit airplane manufacturer who broke the record with Haldeman—Ruth Elder's pilot—held the endurance flight record eight years ago. His mark then was 26 hours.

Return of the record to America, follows the failure of Haldeman and Stinson to succeed in an attempt near Detroit, three weeks ago when ice and snow forced them down.

The monoplane used was the Standard type developed by Stinson. It is equipped with a 220-horsepower Wright Whirlwind motor. More than 100 gallons of their gasoline supply was loaded in five-gallon cans. These were tossed overboard as the flight progressed.

Fliers who went up at intervals to fly beside the big monoplane returned to report both fliers in excellent spirits.

John Ristie and Cornelius Edvard in the Junker plane "Europa" had previously held the record, having wrested the endurance mark from Bert Acosta and Clarence Chamberlin.

Five gallons of gasoline were left in the plane.

Stinson crawled out of the cockpit first. He was grimy and badly in need of a shave as was Haldeman.

Both were dead tired, their flying clothes oily, and their hair disheveled.

Stinson alone would talk. Haldeman getting out of the crowd as soon as he could wedge through.

"There is nothing to say," Stinson remarked, "except that we accomplished what we set out to."

Jacksonville Beach, Fla., Mar. 30.—Capt. George Haldeman and Eddie Stinson, flying a Stinson-Detroiter monoplane, equaled the world's endurance flight record of 52 hours, 23 minutes, at noon today.

At that hour they were flying high here, apparently bent on continuing the flight until their fuel supply is exhausted.

At 12:28 P. M., E. S. T., the Black and Gold monoplane still soared nearly 4,000 feet above the beach. But 32 minutes more flying was between the fliers and a new world's record.

AGAINST BOULDER
CANYON DAM BILL

Washington, March 30.—(U.P.)—The Arizona filibuster against the Johnson Boulder Canyon dam bill will be renewed this session, Senator Ashurst (Dem., Ariz.) indicated to the senate today.

"If the senate intends to pass this bill it better get an option on some overcoats because we will be here until the ides of November," Ashurst said.

GREAT NORTHERN TO BUILD BRANCH IN NORTH MONTANA

St. Paul, March 30.—(U.P.)—The Great Northern railroad was granted its application for construction of a 75-mile branch line in northern Montana, it was announced here today. The extension to be built at an estimated cost of $2,000,000 will serve 1,500,000 acres of land in Blaine and Phillips counties, one of the richest wheat growing regions in the northwest.

WOMEN VOTERS MEET
Importance of Voting at Primaries Stressed by Miss Elizabeth Walsh in Review

The League of Women Voters held another of their popular radio dinners at the home of Mrs. A. M. Opsahl on Tuesday afternoon and evening. After listening to a review of the intervening radio broadcasting program, giving the comments of the Washington correspondent of the London Times on congress, the voice of the lady from Washington commanded attention.

After a brief summary of the legislative perils that the Boulder dam and Muscle Shoals bills still face, a resume of the restrictive immigration legislation was given. This closed with an explanation of the national origins clause of the immigration bill, the application of which has been again postponed a year. The effect of this would be to increase immigration from Russia, Germany, England and the north of Ireland, and decrease it from other parts of Europe.

The local program which followed consisted of an excellent review by Miss Elizabeth Walsh of Frank Kent's views on the importance of voting at the primaries which, he claims, is the only way to prevent complete control by a political machine.

At the board meeting, which followed, it was decided to hold a card party at the Chamber of Commerce parlors on the evening of Friday, April 13. All ladies wishing to reserve tables for guests, are requested to notify the chairman of the social committee, Mrs. Rose Parker.

After an appetizing dinner, the "Voters' Service" program came in loud and clear. Miss Belle Sherwin, president of the National League of Women Voters, discussed the presidential primary. Her conclusion was that it had been a failure, so far as enabling the people to nominate the president was concerned. This, she claimed, was partly due to the variations in the laws of the seventeen states that still retain the presidential primary, no two of them agreeing as to how strictly the delegates must follow their instructions and partly due to the fact that the convention might overturn any and all state laws.

Professor Moley, of Barnard college, Columbia university, then very humorously enumerated the farcical features of a political convention. He described "keynoting," nomination speeches, flag-waving, slogan making and all of the other devices for arousing enthusiasm for the various candidates.

The political writer, William Hard, was then heard in the role of apologist for present methods, making satirical comments on "How is the Choice Really Made." He claimed that the choice was really made by the leaders of the party, who worked out a compromise while others slept. But he claimed that this was by no means putting anything over on the convention. It was merely reaching the same logical conclusion that the rank and file of the delegates would reach when they "woke up." He said he wanted to sprinkle a little cold water of realism on the familiar story of how Harding was nominated. He claimed that this was not done by a small group of spoils politicians, in a back room, reeking with tobacco smoke, at 2 o'clock in the morning. It was done by well-known leaders who were wrestling with the problem of how to break the deadlock, and who were convinced that Harding was the only possible compromise candidate. But Mr. Hard didn't say how many of those "leaders" belonged to the "Ohio gang" who had disgraced their state and who would thus be enabled to extend their operations to Washington. Mr. Hard's cold water of realism would be more convincing were it not for the scum of oil on top of the water.

The place cards were in the form of wee candy baskets. Covers were laid for fourteen. Mrs. Fred Minski aided the hostess in serving.

The evening was spent in playing games and contests. Mrs. Ziebell dressed as Topsy won first prize as the funniest, Marcella Kampmann as an old fashion colonial maid won the prize for the nicest costume, as a little romper baby Irene Turcotte won the prize for being the cutest. "Les Miserables" Film Epic Opens Here in Triumph

So big as to beggar description, so delicate in its artful shadings of pathos and humor, and yet so overpowering in dramatic power and sweep that the audience was held constantly in the grip of tense interest, admiration and sympathy. "Les Miserables," the Universal-Film de France production, opened yesterday at the Lyceum theatre.

One cannot see this gripping, soul-stirring movie masterpiece without realizing that infinite patience, unlimited money and inspired endeavor were lavished upon the production, for no item in the tremendously big tableau seems to have been too small to be worthy of the utmost care in reproducing, when actual antiques could not be obtained.

"Daredevil's Reward," a Fox Film production starring Tom Mix, is a clean, wholesome story of the endeavors of a small band of rangers to retain law and order.

The feature is coming to the Lyceum theatre for Saturday only.

AGRICULTURE BACK TO SOUND BASIS

THE northwest has hit the bottom agriculturally and is definitely on the way back to a sound pre-war basis of farm prosperity, John W. Haw, director of the agricultural development department of the Northern Pacific Railway, told members of the Bemidji Association of Commerce in annual banquet there Wednesday evening.

Mr. Haw cited these trends as the basis for his appraisal of northwest agriculture today:

Farm property transfers from non-resident to resident owners is increasing.

A large increase in inquiries for farm lands.

The movement of people from farm to city has been checked and the trend from city to farm is increasing.

Farm land securities are awakening the investor to the opportunity for profitable and safe investment.

Mr. Haw discussed the subject "The Improved Agricultural Situation in the Northwest."

"The most wholesome sign of better times on farms of the Northwest," Mr. Haw said, "is the interest among our present farmers in obtaining adjacent or adjoining land at the bargain prices now prevailing. There is scarcely a community in the northwest but that can point to a considerable number of transfers of farm property from non-resident owners to resident owners."

"Another sign of the approach of farm land value to stabilization and a renewal of interest on the part of outsiders is the very considerable increase in inquiries for farm lands received by the agricultural development department of the Northern Pacific. From the same general advertising program 12,201 letters of inquiry were received in 1927 against 8,981 in 1926, and much of this increased interest was evidenced in inquiries received during the last months of 1927 as compared with the last months of 1926. In 1926, inquiries were received as follows: October, 628; November, 680; December, 821. In 1927 inquiries were received, October, 987; November, 1,081; December, 1,091. The general character of the letters also indicated a genuine earnest rather than a "shopping around" attitude.

"I believe the preponderant drift from farm to city, which has prevailed for several years, is definitely checked and that each year we may anticipate a wholesome flow of people in the other direction. Furthermore, the investor in securities is beginning to awaken to the opportunity for profitable and safe investment now in farm land securities."

"No one well informed anticipates any stampede back to the farm, but it requires a pessimist indeed who does not believe we have hit bottom agriculturally and are definitely on the way back to a sound pre-war basis of farm prosperity."

WIDER HIGHWAYS

WIDER roads are everywhere in demand. Increased traffic on our public highways makes wider roads a prime essential, and public officials who fail to take this vital fact into the reckoning make a mistake.

According to a writer in the Memphis Commercial Appeal, "road widening has become a definite policy in several states in which the automobile registration is high; one of these states has been adding strips of paving from three to six feet to some of its roads; another is placing along its roads lateral extensions of from twelve to eighteen feet, and these widening policies are particularly to be noted in metropolitan areas around some of the larger and more important cities of the country. Narrow roads do not take care of the traffic and besides they are more dangerous than roads of wider types."

Road improvement programs in Australia during the last few years have caused a great increase in asphalt importation. During the fiscal year 1926-27 the total was almost 100 per cent higher than in the previous year.

The United States has surpassed the world in the matter of building good roads. We have many isolated and relatively unimportant highways that are far superior to old-world main arteries of travel. Our great number of automobiles is directly traceable to the prevalence of good roads.

Australia is to be complimented on her asphalt importations and her road building program. It is an investment that pays huge dividends, especially the improvement of feeder roads to main highways.

BUILDING ROADS FOR WINTER USE TOO

THE Long Prairie Leader remarks editorially that more and more it is coming to be realized that in building roads, they must be built for winter use as well as for summer use.

There is as much need for travel in winter as in summer. In fact, there is more need, for winter travel is the more apt to be the necessary travel while summer travel runs much to joy and pleasure riding.

The past winter has shown again that the graded road is the big money saver when it comes to removing snow and keeping the roads open. The roads that had good grades with proper ditches at the sides were clear of snow practically all the time.

The roads built level with the fields and without proper ditches, were the snow blocked roads and the roads that took the snow removal cash. Again: it appears this spring that the history of the year before is repeated—the roads where the snow was removed are the roads which this spring are the earliest dry and in good condition for travel.

Even the high snow banks at the sides in some mysterious manner have soaked away without filling the roadbeds with water. This has been true in every case except where the road grade was such as to make it impossible for the water from the snow banks to run anywhere except into the roadbed. The fear that piling up snow banks is going to ruin the spring roads seems to be a groundless fear.

THE muskrat harvest in Todd as well as in Crow Wing county is a huge one. Almost every lake and swamp is being visited daily by trappers.

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, March 30.—(U.P.)—The New York Yankees have a rare sense of humor and are kidding the Athletics, Senators and Tigers into believing that they have a chance to beat them out or—

The world's champions are riding to one of the hardest falls any great baseball team ever took since the Athletics dropped all the way from the American league championship in 1914 to last place the next season.

It is unthinkable to believe that the sturdy, powerful and resourceful baseball machine which won the American league pennant last season by 19 games and beat the Pittsburgh Pirates in four straight games, for the world's title has lost its tremendous kick.

But when any team loses seven out of eight games, it is time for something to be done about it. Exhibition games have never worked the Yankees much. They have always been content to idle along and get into shape slowly without over-exerting themselves. But the Yankees are not only losing; they're not hitting and the pitching has been spotty, with even the team's stars, Hoyt, Ponnock and Moore, showing poor form.

The Yankees are not now the team which ran roughshod over all opposition last year. There's something missing somewhere.

Miller Huggins says he isn't worried over the failure of his team to find itself in the exhibition games. "There's plenty of time before the season opens for the boys to start hitting," Huggins says, "don't worry we'll be all right."

If Huggins isn't worrying any then Connie Mack, Stanley Harris and George Moriarity certainly are not losing any sleep over the sluggishness of the world's champions.

From this distant point, it looks like a golden opportunity for some nicely balanced ball club, full of pep and punch, not forgetting the hitters and pitchers, to overthrow the rule of the proud Yankees. The Detroit Tigers might answer to such description.

The Tigers are going some place this season with a vastly improved infield, more speed and punch in the outfield and a pitching staff that may prove the sensation of the league.

Sending Lester Bell to the Boston Braves may have been one of those rare trades that helped the St. Louis Cardinals uncover the very ball player for whom they had been searching on their very club.

"Wattie" Holm, ex-outfielder, threatens to become a star of the first magnitude at third base for the Cardinals. Holm has been knocking down drives and executing sensational fielding plays far beyond the expectations of his strongest supporter who happens to be Manager Bill McKechnie.

Holm will start the season at third with Andy High, obtained from the Braves, in a reserve capacity.

The Cardinals' principal problem is at shortstop where Tommy Thevenow and Rabbit Maranville have been dividing time. Thevenow's broken leg has been bothering him and he is not near the ball player he was in 1926. After playing great ball in the early exhibition games, Maranville has slowed up considerably, indicating that the veteran can't hold up over a long stretch.

The Boston Braves are not the only second division club who hope to crowd into first division in the national league race this year. The Brooklyn Robins are not only certain they'll get into the first group, but they are equally confident that they'll prevent the Braves from making the first four.

Uncle Wilbert Robinson bases his hopes on his reconstructed outfield of Harvey Hendrick, Al Tyson and Babe Herman.

"They are going to give the club the punch they needed to keep from losing so many games by one run," Robinson said.

The batting averages of that trio for the Robins' nine exhibition games are: Tyson .417, Hendrick .372, Herman .346.

LOWELL SCHOOL LEADS IN GRADE SCHOOL TOURNAMENT

ONLY TEAM IN CAGE SERIES UNDEFEATED IN TWO DAYS' PLAY

TWO OVERTIME GAMES FEATURE PLAY: HARRISON DEFEATS WHITTIER, 13 TO 12

LINCOLN DOWNS WHITTIER 9 TO 8 IN FOUR OVERTIME PERIODS YESTERDAY

The grade school basketball tournament enters its final round this afternoon with the possibility of a tieup in the league leaders should Lowell school lose.

The Lowell boys are hoped to win this afternoon's contest over Whittier and maintain a perfect record to win the tournament.

Two days of fascinating cage battles have been staged by four grade schools at the Brainerd high school gymnasium. Two of the games went into overtime play with each of the entries showing up well under the coaching of high school stars.

The Harrison and the Whittier started the tournament off Wednesday afternoon with the Harrison boys winning on a free throw by Johnson in an overtime period by the count of 13 to 12. Foster on guard for the Harrisons found the loop for three field goals to establish the afternoon's high individual count.

The teams lineup:
Whittier: Bandahl, f., Larson, f., Stout, c., Lund, Graff, g.
Harrison: Clausen, Dybvik, f., Johnson, c., Foster, Moe, g.
Subs: Harrison, Mattson for Moe, Mustoni for Clausen.

The Lowell boys triumphed over the Lincoln when they came through with a decisive victory by the count of 13 to 4 Wednesday. The Lincolns substituted considerably in an attempt to stop the scoring streak by the Lowell stars. The winners distributed their field goals with Holmer leading with two field goals.

The lineup:
Lincoln: Garvey, McPherson, f., Hohman, c., Johnson, Erickson, g., Lowell: Swenson, Haas, f., Dryberg, c., Templeton, Holmer, g.
Subs: Lincoln, Anderson for McPherson, Kettleson for Hohman, Varner for Johnson, Kargass for Erickson, Lowell, Halvorson for Swenson, Smith for Haas.

Team Competition Strong
The Lincolns and the Whittier fought through a close game yesterday afternoon, the former winning by the count of 9 to 8 after four short overtime periods had been played. In two of the overtime periods the score was deadlocked when each team scored on field throws. Garvey finally won the game on a field basket.

The lineup:
Lincoln: Garvey, McPherson, f., Hohman, c., Johnson, Erickson, g., Whittier: Bendal, Larson, f., Stout, c., Lund, Graff, g.
Subs: Lincoln, Halvorson for Garvey, Dahl for McPherson and Garvey for Johnson.

Lowell Beats Harrison
The Lowell five went on a scoring rampage yesterday to set up a victory over the Harrison by the count of 19 to 11. Johnson lead the group in scoring with four field goals while Swenson accounted for 7 points.

The lineup:
Harrison: Smith, Dybvik, f., Johnson, c., Moe, Foster, g.
Lowell: Swenson, Haas, f., Dryberg, c., Templeton, Holmer, g.
Subs: Harrison, Clausen for Smith. This afternoon's pairing follows: Harrison vs. Lincoln, Lowell vs. Whittier.

With college swimmers from all parts of the United States participating, the annual National Collegiate swimming championships start today in the magnificent Hutchinson Pool of the University of Pennsylvania.

College swimming takes on new importance this year, in view of the Olympic Games. The events at Philadelphia today and tomorrow serve as a sort of unofficial test of America's natatorial strength.

The Olympic tryouts for men swimmers will be held at Detroit, June 22 to 24, but many a college boy who splashes home with five points for his alma mater at Philadelphia will stand an excellent chance of making the American team.

Officials of the National Collegiate meet are permitting freshmen and other students otherwise ineligible to compete today, in order that everyone who might have a chance of going to Amsterdam can be seen in action. If this were an ordinary college meet, the freshmen, no matter how powerful swimmers they might be, would make up the cheering section. Scholastic and other eligibility rules also are lifted for the occasion. At Detroit in June, they will not ask a boy what his college marks were nor what classes he attended.

Among the crack college swimmers at Philadelphia is R. H. Harrison of Stanford University, regarded as the fastest sprint swimmer on the Pacific Coast. Harrison is the leader of a little squad of mermen from Palo Alto who hope to win the collegiate team championship in addition to individual honors.

Some of the other Stanford hopes are E. W. Cundall, breast stroke champion, R. H. Brumel, who is competing in the 220 and 440, E. O. Driggs in the backstroke and Pete Desjardens, the diver, who holds the national championship.

Desjardens, although he is only a freshman at Stanford, is an Olympic veteran and a certain choice for this year's team. At Paris in 1924, Pete won second place from among the world's best divers.

Minnesota is represented by Captain Sam Hill and Max Moody, who have been thrashing their way to numerous victories in Western Conference competition this year.

Oregon has a lone representative in John Anderson, who is entered in the 50-yard sprint and the 150-yard backstroke event.

Michigan has her sprint champion, Bob Darnell, in the sprints today, while other leading mermen at Philadelphia are Hoar of Springfield, Kojac, a freshman from Rutgers, Garton and Allen of the Army, Groh and Holbrook of Illinois and Joe Farley of Fordham, who has been beaten but once in 27 starts at 400 yards.

Since the last Olympic games at Paris, nearly all of the world's swimming records have changed hands a number of times, so rapidly, in fact, that it is practically impossible to keep track of the various claimants.

The official records, including those accepted in 1927, however, show that Johnny Weismuller is champion at all distances from 100 to 220 yards and that from then on up to the mile the United States does not figure in the free style events.

Arne Borg of Sweden holds every record, with a single exception, from 300 yards to one mile. The exception is the half mile, which Andrew Charlton of Australia negotiated at Sydney in 10:22 on Jan. 8, 1927.

35-MILE LAP TO PALMA FOR DERBY RUNNERS

CONSTITUTES TODAY'S INSTALLMENT FOR PYLE'S LONG DISTANCE RUNNERS

ARNE SOUMINEN, DETROIT FINN, HOLDS ELAPSED TIME LEAD

By JAMES POWERS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Moriarty, N. M., March 30. — A 35-mile lap to Palma constituted today's installment of the C. C. Pyle cross country "Bunion Derby."

Ninety-three runners and walkers started out of here this morning with Arne Souminen, Detroit Finn, holding almost a four-hour lead for elapsed time.

Souminen trotted home ahead of the field yesterday to increase his time lead and capture lap honors. The durable Finn covered the 29.5 miles from Seven Springs in 4:16.

Earl Lin Dills, Newcastle, Penn., came in next for second honors in 4:25.

Gusto Umek, walking champion of Italy, showed a burst of speed and took third honors. His time was 4:46.

Frank Johnson, Granite City, Ill., dropped out after receiving a request to return home.

Louis Alfano, Italy, was the other contestant to drop out. He decided the grind was too strenuous.

The ten leaders and their elapsed time for the 921.5 miles from Los Angeles are:

Arne Souminen, Detroit, 154:02:05.
Peter Gavuzzi, Southampton, Eng., 158:20:35.

Andrew Payne, Claremore, Okla., 158:44:47.
John Cronick, Saskatoon, Sask., 163:29:40.

Voight Hofstater, Manistee, Mich., 173:53:30.
Phillip Granville, Hamilton, Ont., 174:57:20.

John Salo, Passaic, N. J., 176:27:05.

VETERANS AND YOUNGSTERS BOTH SHOW UP WELL

LINE-UP FOR APRIL NOT VERY DIFFERENT FROM LAST YEAR

Following is the seventh of a series of United Press interviews with major league managers of 1928.

(Copyright 1928 by United Press)

Fort Worth, Tex., March 30. — (UP) — Like every other major league manager, George Moriarty considers the club he will lead into the 1928 pennant race a vast improvement over that of last season.

"We will be in the running," predicted the Detroit manager to the United Press today, "and I have high hopes, because the Tigers are a team that will improve as the season wears on."

"Already it has been demonstrated that our veterans and youngsters have improved together."

The big, bluff, black-haired boss of the Tigers, who formerly wielded an umpire's indicator and whisk-broom, said that Detroit's line-up for April 11 would be not very different from that of last year.

"But it will be a different team in every other respect," said Moriarty.

Moriarty also has Van Gilder, a right hander who pitched for the Browns last year, and Chick Galloway, a utility infielder from the Athletics. Otherwise, as he says, the Tigers of 1927, pep and punch injected.

"The club will work better this season because it will be better welded together," predicts its manager.

REBEL ACTIVITIES STIR MEXICO

REPORTS REACH CAPITAL OF 125 PERSONS KILLED IN BATTLES

Mexico City, March 30. — (UP) — Increased rebel activities stirred Mexico today after reports reached the capital that possibly 125 persons had been killed in two rebel-federal engagements.

The major battle was at San Francisco Del Rincon in the state of Guanajuato, where reports today said there was a casualty list of 120. Most of the dead were rebels. It was reported 47 prisoners had been taken by the federals.

A rebel force also surprised a group of federals at Colima, the capital of the state of Colima, and at least two rebels were killed. Several were reported injured.

Another rebel attacking squad stopped a tram-car between Salud and San Jos and robbed all the passengers. They escaped before arrival of the federal troops. Investigations were started immediately after the reports had been received that the town officials were in complicity with the rebels.

St. Paul, March 30. — (UP) — Permis-

son was granted the State Bank of Mora, Minn., to increase its capital stock from $15,000 to $20,000 by A. J. Viogel, state commissioner of banks. The bank also was empowered to increase its number of directors from five to nine.

St. Paul, March 30. — (UP) — Zenit Building and Loan Co., Duluth, Minn., rendered its charter today to A. J. Viogel, state commissioner of banks. All liabilities incurred by the firm have been paid, according to a statement made to the bank commissioner.

MAN POSED AS WOMAN FOR MORE THAN 30 YEARS

"FRANCES ANDERSON," AT ONE TIME WOMAN'S CHAMPION BILLIARD PLAYER

NOTE LAY WITH BODY PLEADING THAT HIS SECRET BE NOT DIVULGED

Sapulpa, Okla., March 30. — (UP) — Frances Anderson of Los Angeles, known one time as the world's champion billiard player, was revealed yesterday as a man after he had committed suicide in a hotel here. Anderson, who had posed as a woman for more than thirty years, slashed his wrists with a razor blade in a hotel here. He was 58 years old.

The body was found attired in woman's clothing and Anderson's sex was not made known until after examination at the mortuary.

A letter lying near the body pleaded that the secret he had kept for more than three decades be not divulged.

Newspaper clippings indicated that Anderson formerly lived in Los Angeles and was a champion woman billiard player. Anderson had played as a woman in many exhibition billiard matches. His last public appearance was in Okmulgee a month ago.

LOWELL SCHOOL LEADS IN GRADE SCHOOL TOURNAMENT

ONLY TEAM IN CAGE SERIES UNDEFEATED IN TWO DAYS' PLAY

TWO OVERTIME GAMES FEATURE PLAY; HARRISON DEFEATS WHITTIER, 13 TO 12

LINCOLN DOWNS WHITTIER 9 TO 8 IN FOUR OVERTIME PERIODS YESTERDAY

The grade school basketball tournament enters its final round this afternoon with the possibility of a tieup in the league leaders should Lowell school lose.

The Lowell boys are doped to win this afternoon's contest over Whittier and maintain a perfect record to win the tournament.

Two days of fascinating cage battles have been staged by four grade schools at the Brainerd high school gymnasium. Two of the games went into overtime play with each of the entries showing up well under the coaching of high school stars.

The Harrison and the Whittier started the tournament off Wednesday afternoon with the Harrison boys winning on a free throw by Johnson in an overtime period by the count of 13 to 12. Foster on guard for the Harrisons found the loop for three field goals to establish the afternoon's high individual count.

The teams lineup:
Whittier: Bandall, f., Larson, f., Stout, c., Lund, Graft, g.
Harrison: Clausen, Dybvik, f., Johnson, c., Foster, Moe, g.
Subs: Harrison, Mattson for Moe, Mustoni for Clausen.

The Lowell boys triumphed over the Lincoln when they came through with a decisive victory by the count of 13 to 4 Wednesday. The Lincolns substituted considerably in an attempt to stop the scoring streak by the Lowell stars. The winners distributed their field goals with Holmer leading with two field goals.

The lineup:
Lincoln: Garvey, McPherson, f., Hohman, c., Johnson, Erickson, g.
Lowell: Swenson, Hass, f., Dryberg, c., Templeton, Holmer, g.
Subs: Lincoln, Anderson for McPherson, Kettleson for Hohman, Varner for Johnson, Kargass for Erickson, Lowell, Halvorson for Swenson, Smith for Hass.

Team Competition Strong
The Lincolns and the Whittier fought through a close game yesterday afternoon, the former winning by the count of 9 to 8 after four short overtime periods had been played. In two of the overtime periods the score was deadlocked when each team scored on field throws. Garvey finally won the game on a field basket.

The lineups:
Lincoln: Garvey, McPherson, f., Hohman, c., Johnson, Erickson, g.
Whittier: Bandall, Larson, f., Stout, c., Lund, Graft, g.
Subs: Lincoln, Halvorson for Garvey, Dahl for McPherson and Garvey for Johnson.

Lowell Beats Harrison
The Lowell five went on a scoring rampage yesterday to set up a victory over the Harrison by the count of 19 to 11. Johnson lead the group in scoring with four field goals while Swenson accounted for 7 points.

The lineups:
Harrison: Smith, Dybvik, f., Johnson, c., Moe, Foster, g.
Lowell: Swenson, Hass, f., Dryberg, c., Templeton, Holmer, g.
Subs: Harrison, Clausen for Smith. This afternoon's pairing follows: Harrison vs. Lincoln, Lowell vs. Whittier.

Sapulpa, Okla., March 30.—(UP)—Frances Anderson of Los Angeles, known one time as the world's champion billiard player, was revealed yesterday as a man after he had committed suicide in a hotel here.

Anderson, who had posed as a woman for more than thirty years, slashed his wrists with a razor blade in a hotel here. He was 58 years old.

The body was found attired in woman's clothing and Anderson's sex was not made known until after examination at the mortuary. A letter lying near the body pleaded that the secret he had kept for more than three decades be not divulged.

Newspaper clippings indicated that Anderson formerly lived in Los Angeles and was a champion woman billiard player. Anderson had played as a woman in many exhibition billiard matches. His last public appearance was in Okmulgee a month ago.

MODERN DIANA TRAPPED, SHOT HER HUSBAND

ARGUED WITH DALLEY H. WILSON FOR RECONCILIATION OR DIVORCE

BLAMES SHOOTING ON A SCANDAL LETTER RECEIVED BY HUSBAND

New York, March 30.—(UP)—A modern Diana, many years of whose life have been spent tracking wild animals in the African jungles, today paced a cell, trapped, because she had shot her estranged husband twice.

"Why—why?" was Mrs. Esther Wilson's one question today in attempting to reconstruct the mad half hour in the office of her husband, Dalley H. Wilson, when she argued for reconciliation or divorce. Wilson, an intimate of President Coolidge and Charles M. Schwab, will recover. Mrs. Wilson's home is at the Wardman Park hotel in Washington.

She blamed the shooting on a scandal letter. Some one, she told Deputy District Attorney Joseph Pasocello, wrote her husband accusing her of misconduct. She came to New York and went to Wilson's office.

"He just waved that letter before my eyes and I saw red," she said. She praised her husband and then berated him.

"He sent me away to hunt lions in Africa so he could hunt women," she said and then added, "oh he was good to me and gave me plenty of money."

Accustomed to withstanding the rigors of tropical heat—she penetrated farther into Nyassaland in 1925 than had any other woman—and to the cold of the arctic—she has been within 10 degrees of the pole—Mrs. Wilson had difficulty in standing the strain this shooting brought on. She smoked countless cigarettes. She was nervous and paced about her cell.

She asked to see her husband and was taken to him today.

Miss Goldie Hoenig, Wilson's secretary, was in the office when the shooting occurred. She told police she heard the huntress ask for a divorce. This was refused. Then she said she heard Mrs. Wilson ask that her alimony be increased from $450 a month to $1,000.

There was considerable argument and then Miss Hoenig said she heard the shots and called police. When an officer arrived Wilson said his wife had shot him in the chest and in the back.

The woman was sitting in another room, weeping, and readily submitted to arrest. She will be arraigned on a felonious assault charge today.

LITTLE FALLS FORMER BANKER IS INDICTED

Little Falls, Minn., March 30.—(UP)—John Daugherty, former assistant cashier of the First National Bank here, was indicted by the Morrison county grand jury today on charge of embezzlement and forgery.

The indictment contained one count of embezzlement and eleven counts of forgery.

Daugherty was charged with first degree grand larceny in connection with the embezzlement of $7,770 and with forging eleven promissory notes, totaling $10,400, over a period from September to December, 1927.

FORT SNELLING DESERTER PLEADS GUILTY TO MURDER

Des Moines, March 29.—(UP)—Dewey Doss, Fort Snelling, Minn., army deserter, pleaded guilty here this afternoon to a charge of first degree murder in connection with the death of Mrs. Martha Smith, 82, of Rising Sun.

Doss appeared before Judge F. S. Shankland. Sentence will be pronounced at 1:30 P. M. Monday.

The penalty will be either life imprisonment or death.

Doss was returned from Potosi, Mo., his home where he was captured by Polk county officers last night.

MARY PICKFORD AWARDED BULK OF MOTHER'S ESTATE

Los Angeles, March 30.—(UP)—Mary Pickford, whose success on the screen largely accounted for the estate which her mother accumulated, was bequeathed the bulk of the fortune left by Mrs. Charlotte Pickford, according to a will on file today for probate in superior court.

Mrs. Pickford, who died March 21, left an estate worth more than $1,000,000.

Mrs. Lottie Pickford Forest, another daughter; Jack Smith, known as Jack Pickford, and little Mary Pickford, granddaughter, each will receive in trust $200,000.

GEORGE REMUS IS FREED FROM INSANE ASYLUM

MILLIONAIRE CINCINNATI BOOT-LEGGERS GAINS HIS LIBERTY

LATEST EFFORT THROUGH PETITION FOR WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS SUCCESSFUL

Lima, O., March 29.—(UP)—George Remus, millionaire Cincinnati bootlegger, committed to the state hospital for the criminally insane

HE ISN'T CONSTIPATED ANY MORE

Thanks to Kellogg's wonderful ALL-BRAN

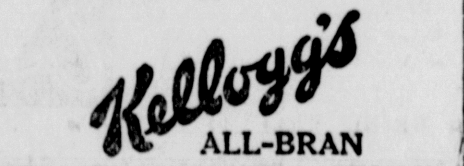

Mr. Grinslade wrote, of his own accord, to tell us how much he valued ALL-BRAN in relieving constipation.

June 1, 1927
"Just a few words to let the company know what Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has done for me. I was constipated for several years until I went to eating your PEP and ALL-BRAN. I am now rid of constipation and it is all due to the use of your products, and I will recommend it to anyone that is bothered with constipation."

Yours truly,
H. M. GRINSLADE,
1129 Laguna Ave., Los Angeles

Constipation is a dreadful thing. It undermines health. It steals happiness. Throbbing heads, aching backs, spots before the eyes, bad complexions are just a few of its telltale symptoms.

Don't let it get in its deadly work on you. Protect yourself now. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to prevent and relieve constipation. A health cereal—ALL-BRAN is 100% bran. Doctors recommend it. Delicious with milk or cream, or with fruit or honey added. Eat two tablespoons daily—chronic cases, with every meal. Use in cooking. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

here after he was acquitted of the murder of his wife, Imogene, was freed today.

The former king of bootleggers was committed to the asylum on Jan. 6. Almost immediately he began proceedings seeking his release, charging he never was proved insane.

His latest effort was through a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, hearing on which was held several weeks ago.

Six alienists testified Remus was sane while two others—called by state's attorneys—asserted he was insane.

Three judges ruled on the case, two ordering Remus freed and the third dissenting.

He was acquitted of the murder of his wife last December. The verdict made his commitment to Lima mandatory, specifying, in compliance with instructions from the trial judge, that if he were acquitted, it must be on "the sole grounds of insanity."

In a subsequent sanity hearing in probate court, Remus was adjudged sane but was held "too dangerous to be at large."

His removal to the asylum followed.

The secret of fine candy-making and the roasting of Hills Bros Coffee depend upon the same rule

WHEN the recipe calls for the hot syrup to be beaten into the egg whites, you add the syrup a little at a time. Then the candy is smooth as velvet. When Hills Bros. roast their coffee, they roast only a few pounds at a time by their patented, continuous process, and as a result secure a flavor and uniformity that no other roasting method can create.

This exact process of roasting is Hills Bros.' exclusively. They originated it, also the famous vacuum pack which seals in every bit of the exhilarating aroma and satisfying flavor. Ask for Hills Bros. Coffee by name and look for the Arab on the can. Write for free copy of "The Art of Entertaining." Address Hills Bros., Dept. 624, 617 Washington Ave., North, Minneapolis, Minn.

MOTORCYCLE HITS WAGON, 3 INJURED

Misses Louise Savageau, Martha Meschke, Occupying Sidecar Taken to Hospital

STRIKES REAR OF WAGON

Henry Hartman, Driver, Failed to See Wagon Said to be Without Lights

Two girls riding in a sidecar of a motorcycle and the driver were injured last night in an accident on east Oak street about two miles from Brainerd when the motorcycle crashed into the rear end of a wagon.

The injured:
Miss Louise Savageau, 803 Fourth avenue N. E.
Miss Martha Meschke, 795 Third avenue N. E.
Henry Hartman, driver of the motorcycle.
The injured were taken to the St. Joseph's hospital and treated for their injuries. Miss Savageau received a ankle and two rib fractures. Miss Meschke received body injuries. Mr. Hartman also received body injuries.

Alleged failure to carry a light on the rear of the wagon was blamed for the accident. The driver of the motorcycle noticed the wagon for the first time only a few feet in front of him. He attempted to make a quick turnout but the sidecar crashed into the rear wagon wheel. The motorcycle was completely wrecked. The name of the driver of the wagon is being withheld pending investigation.

LINDBERGH RESTS AT ST. LOUIS TODAY

St. Louis, Mo., March 30.—(UP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh rested here today, his plans for the immediate future completely concealed.

Lindbergh arrived here yesterday after a non-stop flight from Cincinnati and immediately went into seclusion. He said he desired to rest for a week or so.

Major William B. Robertson, close personal friend and former employer of the flyer, said Lindbergh might leave in three or four days.

HOOVER SAYS BUSINESS CONDITIONS ARE GENERALLY GOOD

Washington, March 29.—(UP)—Secretary of Commerce Hoover said today business conditions throughout the country are generally good and industry is speeding up with the advent of spring. He said building awards this year were 13 to 14 per cent above last year's figures, that the production of machine tools and office furniture had increased, and that other signs point to increasing good business.

CONDITION OF MOTHER OF MRS. COOLIDGE IS MUCH BETTER

Northampton, Mass., March 30.—(UP)—The condition of Mrs. Lemira Goodhue was such that Mrs. Calvin Coolidge has decreased the number of her daily visits.

Yesterday Mrs. Coolidge visited the hospital only once, that in the late afternoon. She remained for more than an hour with her mother. She decreased her visits fearing to weaken her mother's condition.

Doctors last night reported Mrs. Goodhue resting fairly comfortable.

'THE PEA SOUP GANG' MEETS AT SUGAR BEE

French-Canadian Customs Revived by Morrison County Colony at Outdoor Fete

Twelve Families Gather Yesterday at Mahlum's Hole in the Day Sugar Bush

From the wooded highlands and streams of the historic Old Quebec many years ago comes a custom that has been religiously observed throughout the years, a custom the French-Canadians love to revive.

It is the sugar bush fete, a day set aside in the spring when French-Canadians and their descendants gather at the sugar bush to sing, dance, and make delicious candies and sweet meats filled with nuts from maple syrup.

Yesterday, that day was observed by the French-Canadian colony residing on well-to-do farms in Morrison county near Belle Prairie.

Twelve families enjoyed themselves to their hearts content at the Mahlum Hole in the Day Sugar Bush situated between Round and Long Lake. The majority of those present had attended a similar fete there last year and plan to continue the custom each year as long as they live.

Sap from the huge acreage of maple trees there were boiled down and cooled in the snow, later being pulled into maple sugar taffy. But the greatest treat was the maple taffy nut bar with its sprinkling of nuts mixed in with the tasty maple sugar taffy.

The heads of the families in attendance were: Mr. and Mrs. Sam Doucette, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bellefeuille, Mr. and Mrs. Hector Bellefeuille, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Houle, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Houle, Mr. and Mrs. Athonse Houle, Mr. and Mrs. David Morin, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Becotte, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Bellefeuille, Mr. and Mrs. Euclide Plante, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Doucette, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Doucette.

CARD OF THANKS

HEALTH SERVICE DOING FINE WORK

Mrs. F. M. Kelley Named President, Mrs. W. F. Dieckhaus, Vice President

ENTERS SIXTH YEAR

Work of Organization is Public Service for Health and City's Welfare

The Brainerd Health Service Council is more than holding up its responsibility of Brainerd's health problem, and deserves the greatest amount of praise from the citizens of this city.

The health service has been in existence in Brainerd for the past five years and is the only organization in the city which is able to give temporary aid to any extent. Membership collections aid in replenishing the treasury.

Officers for the year 1928 as elected recently are the following:

President—Mrs. F. M. Kelley.
Vice President—Mrs. W. F. Dieckhaus.

Secretary—Mrs. Arthur Gordon.
Treasurer—Mrs. E. L. Gustafson.

The council is composed of two members from each protestant church. This council conducts the business of the organization and are the only members who have the right to vote. Associate members pay dues of $1 and may or may not assist with the work of the organization as they choose.

Part of the organization's work follows:

1. Making of layettes to be given away.
2. Making of maternity packages which are also given away.
3. Fumigating and mending of old clothes which are given away through the city nurse, Miss Eula Michael. These clothes are kept in an unused room in the city hall.
4. Financial aid is given whenever possible.

All donations go through the city nurse so there is no overlapping.

A grass fire which got out of control at the mill, Northeast Brainerd was put out a short while later.

COMPANIONATE MARRIAGE IS SCORED BY VALIANT

Evangelist Condemns Loose Marriage Relation and Easy Divorces

LINDSAY OFFERS NO CURE

Draws Analogy Between Earthly Marriage Relationship and Spiritual Union

Companionate marriage, loose marriage relations, and easy divorces were scored in Edgar A. Valiant's sermon on "Married, Separated, or Divorced," at the First Baptist church last evening. "Ben Lindsay has offered no cure for the social ills of the age," he stated, "instead of making conditions better, companionate marriage will take our civilization to the abyss of destruction."

He also drew an analogy between the earthly marriage relationship and the spiritual union of the soul with God. We are either married, separated, or divorced from God, and it is important that we know our status. If we have been united to Christ by a vital union of life, this will be expressed in a life of love to Him and to our fellowmen. We will seek to make every trade, however menial or lowly, a masterpiece of love for Him.

"Two Candle Lights" will be the subject of Mr. Valiant's sermon this evening. It will be school night, and the sermon will be expressed in language that children can easily understand. A large chorus of boys and girls will sing the splendid songs that they have been learning in the hour devoted to them from night to night. All are invited to attend.

MOTORCYCLE HITS WAGON, 3 INJURED

Misses Louise Savageau, Martha Meschke, Occupying Sidecar Taken to Hospital

STRIKES REAR OF WAGON

Henry Hartman, Driver, Failed to See Wagon Said to be Without Lights

Two girls riding in a sidecar of a motorcycle and the driver were injured last night in an accident on east Oak street about two miles from Brainerd when the motorcycle crashed into the rear end of a wagon.

The injured:
Miss Louise Savageau, 803 Fourth avenue N. E.
Miss Martha Meschke, 705 Third avenue N. E.
Henry Hartman, driver of the motorcycle.

The injured were taken to the St. Joseph's hospital and treated for their injuries. Miss Savageau received a ankle and two rib fractures. Miss Meschke received body injuries. Mr. Hartman also received body injuries.

Alleged failure to carry a light on the rear of the wagon was blamed for the accident. The driver of the motorcycle noticed the wagon for the first time only a few feet in front of him. He attempted to make a quick turn but the sidecar crashed into the rear wagon wheel. The motorcycle was completely wrecked. The name of the driver of the wagon is being withheld pending investigation.

LINDBERGH RESTS AT ST. LOUIS TODAY

St. Louis, Mo., March 30.—(UP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh rested here today, his plans for the immediate future completely concealed.

Lindbergh arrived here yesterday after a non-stop flight from Cincinnati and immediately went into seclusion. He said he desired to rest for a week or so.

Major William B. Robertson, close personal friend and former employer of the flyer, said Lindbergh might leave in three or four days.

HOOVER SAYS BUSINESS CONDITIONS ARE GENERALLY GOOD

Washington, March 29.—(UP)—Secretary of Commerce Hoover said today business conditions throughout the country are generally good and industry is speeding up with the advent of spring. He said building awards this year were 13 to 14 per cent above last year's figures, that the production of machine tools and office furniture had increased, and that other signs point to increasing good business.

CONDITION OF MOTHER OF MRS. COOLIDGE IS MUCH BETTER

Northampton, Mass., March 30.—(UP)—The condition of Mrs. Lemira Goodhue was such that Mrs. Calvin Coolidge has decreased the number of her daily visits.

Yesterday Mrs. Coolidge visited the hospital only once, that in the late afternoon. She remained for more than an hour with her mother. She decreased her visits fearing to weaken her mother's condition.

Doctors last night reported Mrs. Goodhue resting fairly comfortably.

SYNOPSIS

Danny Malone lands a job on the New York police force at the time when repeated silk robberies are threatening a shakeup in the department. Four officers have given their lives in attempting to capture the robbers but the robberies continue with increasing boldness. Commissioner Leonard tells Alfred Dayton, warehouse owner and politician, that the bandits are getting "inside" help but Dayton ridicules the idea and threatens to oust Leonard unless the robberies cease. Mary Gillen, Danny's sweetheart, is the secretary of Alfred Dayton, Jr., who apparently is little worried by his father's losses. Mary and her grandfather, Dad Gillen, a veteran of the force, are alarmed because Danny seems more interested in finding his wayward brother, Dick, than in making good with the department. In the meantime, Jimmy Wells, a police reporter on The World, has just sold his first play and asks his city editor for an assignment to the silk cases to get material for a new crook play.

"And so is your old man?" Steve Jordan didn't want any part of the idea, and Jimmy Wells leaned back against the wall to meditate on just how dumb newspaper editors could be. He remarked as much.

"Aw, go to hell," growled Jordan, and turned to the pile of copy that a boy had just shoved under his nose. It was marked rush, and as he scanned over the lead he buzzed the proof-boy.

"Tell Crane to come up here, I'm putting him on the silk case." The boy grinned in answer to Jimmy's nod then turned to Jordan.

"Crane is home sick, sir," the boy said. He's taking the week off.

"Danny made a human catapult of himself."

There's no one at the desk now but Paulding."

"Oh, hell," barked Jordan. "If there ever was a man around this desk when I wanted him he'd fall down dead before he got on the case. Now what's eating you?"

Jimmy was all smiles.

"Why, I told you. You wanted me this morning, an' I'm going to take this job, give you the best you ever had . . . and do it for nothing."

Then seeing that Jordan was still far from enthusiastic he went on:

"Aw come on, Chief, this is my big chance. You ain't got anything against my work. I'll give you a knock-em-down drag-em-out gang-war, riots and murders, front page headlines, one a minute. Okay?"

"You young idiot," roared Jordan. "We want truth not fiction. We want conservative newspaper stories not plays."

"Sold," yelled Jimmy. "I'm telling you now that there's going to be a hot time between Dayton and Leonard. There's sure to be a racket at headquarters, maybe a new commissioner, who knows?"

Jordan didn't have a chance. This silk murder and the attendant developments promised to furnish the best copy of the year and someone had to go.

"Okay," he snapped, "jump to it, but let me tell you that this thing you're going on is one of the biggest things that have happened in this town in the last twenty years. We want facts, not fiction, and what's more we want them fast. Now, if you want the job, hop to it at your old salary."

"Atta-boy Steve," and Jimmy wasn't kidding any more, "I guess I got that angle myself, an' you've got my promise that I'll do all I can . . . and . . . don't forget those headlines."

Jimmy was gone, and Steve Jordan leaned back a moment to wonder. New York was sitting on the edge of a crater and Jimmy Wells might be the one to start the eruption.

In spite of Dad's encouragement Danny Malone didn't like his new job. He did it in a painstaking and pleasant manner and soon began to know and like the kids that passed him four times a day. It was too easy, but more important still it kept him in one place, and he had hoped to be able to find his brother during the ramblings that being a cop would entail.

Danny had been on the job about two weeks when the first real excitement occurred. It was noon, and Danny had just stopped to let the kids across. One of them, the smallest, needed more than that so he was in the habit of walking over with them. One little fellow in particular was a favorite of his, but that day Abe was late and Danny did not see him start out to follow him across the street.

Little Abe Moskowitz was almost blind and when Danny turned around, he was standing timidly in the middle of the street. That wasn't all. Over on the far corner a young man was making a wild stab at the dragging reins of a runaway milk-horse. That man was Jimmy Wells, and as his hand missed the dragging reins, Danny made a human catapult of himself, gathered up little Abe on the fly and landed in the opposite gutter on the flat of his back, his coat badly torn but with the frightened child safe in his arms.

"Say, officer, I want to tell you that you just did a mighty fine thing."

It was Jimmy Wells speaking, but Danny smiled him aside, a great deal more interested in his torn coat.

"That's okay, fellow," grinned Jimmy, "but I want to tell you that newspaper notices never did a cop any harm yet."

Danny still grinned his lack of use for publicity, but Motorcycle Policeman Jones had different ideas. He had captured the runaway, and had returned to grab his share of the glory. As he came up Danny sneaked away with the final remark still failing to yield any information to the newshawk.

As far as Jimmy knew, this was the first time that he had been unable to get a story out of a policeman, so he welcomed Officer Jones with open arms.

"Sure, I know him," Jones remarked when asked, "he's Danny Malone, a rookie cop and one of the nicest kids we've had in a long time."

That was all Jimmy wanted to know and was in the act of putting his pad and pencil away when the officer again broke in.

"Say, my name's Bill Jones an' I stopped the runaway. It's okay with me if you use this in your story. I don't mind it a bit."

Jimmy grinned, but added the name to his story.

"That night when Danny returned to the station house the lieutenant on duty asked him what was wrong. His shoulder was still torn and he sat down to write his report as if it hurt him."

"Had a fight?" he was asked.

"No sir, I had a fall. It's okay now," answered Danny.

The lieutenant had seen too much to believe the story as it stood, and was reading Danny's bald report of the "Abe Incident" when Patrolman Jones walked in with the latest copy of the "Evening World." There was a headline story together with a signed article by Jimmy and a photo of Danny. The story had lost nothing in the telling, and under the skillful narration of Officer Jones it became even better.

"Say," remarked that worthy, "he came so close to getting on that honor roll that he had me dizzy."

Satisfied that nothing he could say would alter the fact that he was a hero, Danny let it go at that. He did not know it, but that story was to be one of the most significant ever published in New York. Even Jimmy Wells would have smiled at that.

Next morning Commissioner Leonard was reading the paper when his eyes caught the same story. An inspector was sitting across the desk from him, and Leonard threw the paper over to him.

"Know this man?" he asked. "He's the kind we ought to have down in that silk district. Arrange for his transfer and let me see him before he reports on that silk affair anyway!"

"Not a darn thing," growled the inspector. "I've been on the force for over twenty years now, and I've never before met a gang with the undercover system that this one has got. Say you don't hear a thing till the day this happens. I've got a strong hunch who the men are who do the dirty work, but if we take them up, we'll only make the big boys hire new help. They're tough, and no mistake."

CROOKS CAN'T WIN

Novelized by KENNETH HALLAM

Copyrighted by FBO Pictures Corp. 1927-28 From the thrilling FBO Drama starring Ralph Lewis.

SYNOPSIS

Danny Malone lands a job on the New York police force at the time when repeated silk robberies are threatening a shakeup in the department. Four officers have given their lives in attempting to capture the robbers but the robberies continue with increasing boldness. Commissioner Leonard tells Alfred Dayton, warehouse owner and politician, that the bandits are getting "inside" help but Dayton ridicules the idea and threatens to oust Leonard unless the robberies cease. Mary Gillen, Danny's sweetheart, is the secretary of Alfred Dayton, Jr., who apparently is little worried by his father's losses. Mary and her grandfather, Dad Gillen, a veteran of the force, are alarmed because Danny seems more interested in finding his wayward brother, Dick, than in making good with the department. In the meantime, Jimmy Wells, a police reporter on The World, has just sold his first play and asks his city editor for an assignment to the silk cases to get material for a new crook play.

"And so is your old man?" Steve Jordan didn't want any part of the idea, and Jimmy Wells leaned back against the wall to meditate on just how dumb newspaper editors could be. He remarked as much. "Aw, go to hell," growled Jordan, and turned to the pile of copy that a boy had just shoved under his nose. It was marked rush, and as he scanned over the lead he buzzed the proof-boy. "Tell Crane to come up here, I'm putting him on the silk case." The boy grinned in answer to Jimmy's nod then turned to Jordan. "Crane is home sick, sir," the boy said. He's taking the week off.

"Danny made a human catapult of himself."

There's no one at the desk now but Paulding. "Oh, hell," barked Jordan. "If there ever was a man around this desk when I wanted him he'd fall down dead before he got on the case. Now what's eating you?" Jimmy was all smiles. "Why, I told you. You wanted me this morning, an' I'm going to take this job, give you the best you ever had... and do it for nothing."

Then seeing that Jordan was still far from enthusiastic he went on: "Aw come on, Chief, this is my big chance. You ain't got anything against my work. I'll give you a knock-em-down drag-em-out gang-war, riots and murders, front page headlines, one a minute. Okay?"

"You young idiot," roared Jordan. "We want truth not fiction. We want facts, not action, and what's more we want them fast. Now, if you want the job, hop to it at your old salary."

"Atta-boy Steve," and Jimmy wasn't kidding any more, "I guess I got that angle myself, an' you've got my promise that I'll do all I can... and I don't forget those headlines."

Jimmy was gone, and Steve Jordan leaned back a moment to wonder. New York was sitting on the edge of a crater and Jimmy Wells might be the one to start the eruption.

In spite of Dad's encouragement Danny Malone didn't like his new job. He did it in a painstaking and pleasant manner and soon began to know and like the kids that passed him four times a day. It was too easy, but more important still it kept him in one place, and he had hoped to be able to find his brother during the ramblings that being a cop would entail.

Danny had been on the job about two weeks when the first real excitement occurred. It was noon-hour and Danny had just stopped traffic to let the kids across. Some of them, the smallest, needed more than that so he was in the habit of walking over with them. One little fellow in particular was a favorite of his, but that day Abe was late and Danny did not see him start out to follow him across the street.

Little Abe Moskowitz was almost blind and when Danny turned around, he was standing timidly in the middle of the street. That wasn't all. Over on the far corner a young man was making a wild stab at the dragging reins of a runaway milk-horse. That man was Jimmy Wells, and as his hand missed the dragging reins, Danny made a human catapult of himself, gathered up little Abe on the fly and landed in the opposite gutter on the flat of his back, his coat badly torn but with the frightened child safe in his arms.

"Say, officer, I want to tell you that you just did a mighty fine thing."

It was Jimmy Wells speaking, but Danny smiled him aside, a great deal more interested in his torn coat.

"Aw, forget it, it's just part of the job."

"That's okay, fellow," grinned Jimmy, "but I want to tell you that newspaper notices never did a cop any harm yet."

Danny still grinned his lack of use for publicity, but Motorcycle Policeman Jones had different ideas. He had captured the runaway, and had returned to grab his share of the glory. As he came up Danny sneaked away with the final remark still falling to yield any information to the newshawk.

As far as Jimmy knew, this was the first time that he had been unable to get a story out of a policeman, so he welcomed Officer Jones with open arms.

"Sure, I know him," Jones remarked when asked, "he's Danny Malone, a rookie cop and one of the nicest kids we've had in a long time."

That was all Jimmy wanted to know and was in the act of putting his pad and pencil away when the officer again broke in.

"Say, my name's Bill Jones and I stopped the runaway. It's okay with me if you use this in your story. I don't mind it a bit."

Jimmy grinned, but added the name to his story.

That night when Danny returned to the station house the Lieutenant on duty asked him what was wrong. His shoulder was still torn and he sat down to write his report. "If it hurt him."

"Had a fight?" he was asked. "No sir, I had a fall. It's okay now," answered Danny.

The Lieutenant had seen too much to believe the story as it stood, and was reading Danny's bald report of the "Abe incident" when Patrolman Jones walked in with the latest copy of the "Evening World." There was a headline story together with a signed article by Jimmy and a photo of Danny. The story had lost nothing in the telling, and under the skillful narration of Officer Jones it became even better.

"Say," remarked that worthy, "he came so close to getting on that honor roll that he had me dizzy."

Satisfied that nothing he could say would alter the fact that he was a hero, Danny let it go at that. He did not know it, but that story was to be one of the most significant ever published in New York. Even Jimmy Wells would have smiled at that.

Next morning Commissioner Leonard was reading the paper when his eyes caught the same story. An inspector was sitting across the desk from him, and Leonard threw the paper over to him.

"Know this man?" he asked. "He's the kind we ought to have down in that silk district. Arrange for his transfer and let me see him before he reports on that beat. Anything new on that silk affair anyway?"
